

Contents

Why the Dawn Volume? Lidia Sudyka	7
Tous les matins du monde ne sont pas sans retour : on some Vedic images of dawn Cezary Galewicz	15
The descriptions of the dawn in the mahākāvya genre Lidia Sudyka	33
The day dawns, the bards wake up the sleeping prince: Aja's episode in Kālidāsa's Raghuvamśa Anna Bonisoli Alquati	57
"...And soon it will be dawn": some observations about the dawn-songs in European Medieval and Indian Classical Poetry Daniela Rossella	65
When ghazal does not speak of love... Imagery of "dawn" in poetry of Faiz Ahmad Faiz Maria Skakuj Puri, Khurshid Afaq	101
Dawn in Daṇḍin's Daśakumāracarita Anna Trynkowska	133
Business unusual: Bāṇa's description of Dawn in Harṣacarita Rajendran Chettiartodi	141
Action and anxiety: dawn in the Kādambarī of Bāṇabhaṭṭa and Bhūṣaṇa David Smith	147
At dawn and at dusk: a woman at her toilet. Many ways of interpretation of the art motif Dorota Kamińska	173