

Contents

Part II. Śrāvya. Poetry&Prose

Introduction

Anna Nitecka, Lidia Sudyka vii

The Debate on Asceticism as a Permanent Choice of Life: Some Late Clues from *Mahākāvya*s

Tiziana Pontillo 1

Political Metaphors in the Mahākāvya

Anna Trynkowska 23

Women's Town—Ghost Town. A Picture of a Dying City in the Raghuvaṃśa

Tomasz Winiarski..... 37

Sanskritization of Regional History: A Study in the Historiography of Atula's Mūṣikavaṃśa Myths and Facts

Rajendran Chettiarthodi 67

War Expedition or Pilgrimage? Acyutarāya's Southern Campaign as Depicted in the Acyutarāyābhyudaya

Lidia Sudyka..... 81

Prisons in Sanskrit Literature: A Comparison of the Arthaśāstra and the Vāgmaṇḍanagunādūtakāvya Descriptions

Lidia Szczepanik..... 101

Embracing Simultaneity: The Story of Śleṣa in South Asia

Yigal Bronner..... 119

Kavirahasya , “The Secret of Poets”: Rājāśekhara’s View on Poetry Katarzyna Pażucha	143
Ritual Worship of the Narasimhamantra as Depicted in the Sātvatasamhitā Ewa Dębicka-Borek	167
The Topos of the Four Ages of Humankind and the Question of Rāma’s Divinity Mariola Pigoñiowa	209
Following the Path of One’s Duty: Tulsīdās’s Rāmcaritmānas as a Socio-Cultural Code Danuta Stasik	237
History of a Polyglossic Literary Culture. On the Decline of the History of Hindi Literature Piotr Borek	249
Tyrants, Villains, Belles and Saints: Stereotyped Portraits of Muslim Characters in Early Hindi Novels Tatiana DUBYANSKAYA	265
“The Double Curse” – Dalit Woman Autobiography in Hindi by Kausalya Baisantri Monika Browarczyk	287
Royal Attributes as Reflected in cañkam Poetry Alexander DUBYANSKIY	307
Old Tamil Kings and Chieftains as Described in Sangam Literature Jaroslav Vacek	325
Tirumañkaiyālvār’s Maṭal Poems and Social History of Early Medieval South India Jacek Woźniak	355

Reviews

- Daud Ali, Courtly Culture and Political Life in Early Medieval India.
Reviewed by Piotr Borek 377
- Rasala Books
Reviewed by Lidia Szczepanik 385